Monte Stiles (Boise, Idaho) is an award-winning nature photographer who has been capturing images of birds of prey and other wildlife for many years. His journey into photography came after spending almost 30 years in law enforcement as a federal drug prosecutor. Monte's work has been featured on the cover of magazines and in articles about the great outdoors. Monte Stiles is also a highly sought-after motivational speaker who has inspired audiences in the United States and abroad through his multi-media presentations. Monte was a featured speaker at the Snake River Birds of Prey Festival in Kuna, Idaho where his presentation, "Where the Wild Things Are" included experiences and techniques used to photograph magnificent birds of prey and other wildlife. Monte's work can be viewed at www.montestilesphotography.com

Max Burke (Meridian, Idaho) began serious photography in 1968 with his first darkroom. This eventually led to processing color slides, color and monochrome prints. He has been active for 27 years in the Photographic Society of America (PSA). During this time he has participated as a judge, commentator and participant in countless competitions and PSA study groups. Most of these involve participants throughout the world. He currently participates as a photographer/commentator in four general photo study groups in projection, High Dynamic Range and prints category. Regarding nature photography, Max was Print Chair for two years of the PSA Nature and Wildlife Print competitions for the PSA's International Salon. Additionally, he is a photography generalist, which includes nature photography. His work in leadership in organizations, community volunteerism, and contributions to the Photographic Society of America has earned him an honor he will formally receive at their annual conference this autumn, 2015.
