Gerald’s death reminds us to appreciate the friendships and falconry experiences we share. I am grateful for the memories and will never forget Gerald.

— Ken Tuttle

Men like Gerald Richards come along once in a lifetime. Those of us fortunate to have known him are richer for the time we shared.

— Howard Brinkerhoff

Whenver I think of Gerald, I smile. Falconry has lost one of its most colorful character. We will greatly miss him. His stories and traditions will live on.

— Dave Jamieson

“Portrait of a Master” by Hubert Quade given as a gift to Lavon Richards at the 1995 UFRBA BBQ.

© Archives of Falconry

Do Not Copy Without Permission